Three pretty air-minded misses from Willows flew into San Francisco yesterday to urge Mayor Rossi to be a guest of honor at the Seventh Annual Northern California Air Show, to be held at Willows Airport, Saturday and Sunday.

They were winners of the three high places in a popularity contest in which Willows beauties view as a preliminary to the show. Miss Verna de Vries, who won the title of Flight Commander for the exhibition, and Misses Laura Jane Turlington and Eowana Potter, who will be her lieutenants.

Brought to San Francisco in a special plane piloted by F. H. "Speed" Nolte, well known Willows flyer, the girls visited Mayor Rossi during the morning, spent the day touring the city, flew back to Willows last evening.

The valley city boasts the busiest airport in northern California, excepting those at which the major air lines are based.
