Eighth Annual Airshow In Glenn County Is Under Way

WILLOWS (Glenn Co.), Sept. 24. Hundreds of persons with their heads tilted skyward today witnessed the first half of the eighth annual Northern California Airshow which opened at the local airport this morning.

With sixty planes on the field last year, it is expected that the total will go seventy five during this show.

The committee in charge of the show have lined up an excellent program for the two days consisting of parachute jumps on both days, upside down flying by Joseph Lewis, noted stunt flier, air races for light planes and a free for all race for planes of all kinds.

The closing feature of the show tomorrow will be a gigantic fireworks display.
